

The Tragedy Ever since I was a little girl, I grew up dreaming of meeting Mr. Crackerjack. You know, that handsome silver haired man with the beard who could teach me anything and was always willing to help out his lovely canine friends? And then one day, he saved my life. It was the middle of summer when all the other humans were gone for vacation or working or something else. My parents left me home alone because I swore up and down that I'd be responsible enough to keep myself out of trouble for five minutes... and I've been alone ever since. Except for Mr. Crackerjack, who has been my constant guardian angel ever since that fateful day. Of course, he has no idea that I have dreams about him. He doesn't even know what he looks like...just called me by his name. But still... I can't help it! Whenever I'm feeling down...I just have to sleep with Mr. Crackerjack's picture under my pillow. I'm safe in my bed. He'll protect me... The Story of Mr. Crackerjack It's been six years! Six long years I've waited for my guardian angel to come around again! And now that he's back in my life, things are not so good... "Why is he so cold toward me...?" I wonder. My parents think I'm crazy, but they don't understand it... they say this guy who stopped the mugger from stabbing me to death isn't real! Wait, what? How can they be so cruel!? Don't they know that Mr. Crackerjack has all but saved my life countless times? Yet still, my parents insist that he does not exist. How much more will I have to endure? Oh, Mr. Crackerjack...where are you?! I just need to see your face one more time...and then I can die in peace! I can't go on living like this! Please! Please, save me and show me how beautiful life is before it's too late!!! It's been five days since I walked into that room and found him dead. Before the police officers told me that he was dead. I held his picture up to my face and smiled. But now...it's all gone... This is how it ends for me...alone...in a room with a dead man lying on the floor... On second thought...maybe I'm better off this way? I used to always go out on the streets looking for my prince charming Mr. Crackerjack, but now...I'm not so sure if he's real or not. I mean, I'd be crazy to be looking for him in the streets of Hong Kong. How am I supposed to find someone who doesn't exist? The next day, all that was left was his old cap. The one he always wore when he would help me run errands with him. Now it's all worn out and faded by time...and smells like smoke... Oh Mr. Crackerjack...
